IN FROM THE HILLS.

Return of a Portion of the Yankton Prospecting and Exploring Party—The Black Hills Found to be All That They Have Been Represented—A Delightful Country Abounding in Rank Timber, Sparkling Streams and Beautiful Valleys and the Richest Gold Mines in the West—Preference Expressed for the Fort Pierre Route.

[Yankton (Dakota) Herald, March 25.]

As anticipated from news received here several days ago, a portion of what is known as the Yankton Black Hills party have returned to their homes in this city, after a trip the latter part of which was made in a parting but pleasant by the heavy snow storm that visited this section two weeks ago. Messrs. H. C. Ash, W. J. James, Wm. Leeper, and Fred Edgar arrived by stage on Thursday night, Chas. H. Bates on Friday evening, and A. M. English, Geo. Henckle, and M. A. Baker.

The Yankton party originally consisted of H. C. Ash, Harry Ash, M. A. Baker, Wm. Leeper, Geo. Henckle, A. M. English, W. P. Lyman, A. P. Wood, Geo. W. Smith, Nelson Smith, Wm. Brisbane, and Frank Coulson, and they left Yankton on the 9th of February for the Black Hills. On the 10th C. A. Marshall and L. S. Field left here to join the party, and three days later Chas. H. Bates and W. J. James and Fred Edgar followed, overtaking the party at Fort Thompson. This expedition, embracing city, county and government officials and some of the oldest and most respected citizens of Yankton, was started out principally for the purpose of inspecting the routes leading from the Missouri river to the Hills, and with the further object of being personally convinced of the actual status of the Black Hills country with regard to its mining, agricultural and timber resources. The description of the trip we will leave to the very interesting diary of Charles Bates, which is herewith appended.

The returned explorers are every one of them most enthusiastic over the pleasing sights which their eyes beheld while traveling through the Black Hills region. Charles Bates says he never expected to see such a country until after he should shuffle off this mortal coil and realize the poetic promises of his old time Sunday School books, while Mr. James entertains the opinion that it is a portion of paradise strayed off on the prairie and lost in a blizzard. He says that he holds himself in check while speaking about it lest the people with whom he talks may think him imposing upon their credulity. The boys say that one day while in the Hills English ascended a high butte and folding his arms across his breast while his vision ranged over the vast expanse spread out before him declared that he would rather die in the Black Hills than live in any other country. Ash, Leeper, Henckle and Edgar are equally enthusiastic with the others and we know their faith is well founded. To behold miles and miles of large, straight and heavy pine timber, streams of pure crystal water gurgling and purring along in their rocky hillside courses, and beautiful valleys where the grass remains green in mid winter, are pleasant sights to which our friends were not accustomed. Remembering the season of year there was something in the scene that promised so much when the warm breath of Spring should quicken the foliage into life and lead the visitor in fancy to dress the hills and valleys in their coming robes of green and hear the sighing of the leaves yet imprisoned in their winter cull.

The first mining camp struck by the Yankton party after entering the Hills was at Rapid City, a new town aspiring to be the metropolis. The miners there had found some splendid prospects but had done very little mining on account of the cold weather. The boys did some prospecting along Rapid Creek with more or less success. At one place on the creek Mr. James secured forty particles of gold in a single pan and Judge Leeper took out as high as fifteen cents to the pan. The miners in the Hills have, as a general thing, done very little during the winter except to hunt for prospects. The principal mining is done on Spring Creek, where two sluices are in operation which have been kept at work for the past few weeks as steadily as the position of the ground would permit. One of these has turned out $1,600 from a single sluice and the other has cleaned up as high as $75 per day. The boys caught over $150 in gold dust, out $30 of which was mined by themselves and the remainder paid them in exchange for goods sold miners.

While the Yankton party were in the Hills there was considerable excitement on account of reports of rich discoveries north on Deadwood and Whitewood creeks, but a heavy fall of snow in that section had stopped the prospecting and possibly prevented a stampede. Judge Leeper, who followed mining for fifteen years in California and Montana, says that he is now fully satisfied that all of the Black Hills country is gold-bearing, but remarks that those who go there to dig for it must expect to work hard or they may fare no better than by following other pursuits. He says, though, that that country is panning out better, under all the circumstances, than any other now mining country within his experience. The great rush to Pike's Peak in 1859 ended by everybody's leaving there disgusted after vainly endeavoring for a few months to find paying mines, and yet after being deserted for a few years other miners went into the same district where the first ones failed of success and at this time hundreds of fortunes are made from mining, within sight of the Peak. When the frost leaves the ground in the Spring and the streams receive their usual supply of water mining will extensively prosecuted along Spring, French, Rapid and other creeks and to the north in the vicinity of the Big Horn.

The Yankton party entered the Hills on the 27th of February and took their departure from Custer City on the 7th of March. Among the Yankton boys met in the Hills were Washington and Thos. Reed, Adolph Branch, Will and George Hughes, Dan and Oliver Shannon, Samuel Duce, Jack Merston, George Trimmer, Wm. Canty, Thompson, Capt. Garland and Hank Royster, Budd Todd was prospecting on Rapid creek but the party did not see him. Of the Yankton party Major Lyman, Al. Wood, George Smith, Nelson Smith, Frank Coulson and Harry Ash remained in the Hills. It is good enough for them and they guessed they would stay there.

The Yankton expedition was composed of some of our best known and most reliable citizens, who have had much experience in overland travel. As before stated, one of the chief purposes of going to the Hills at this time was to examine the most popular routes from the river to the mines. With this purpose in view they went out by the Fort Pierre route and returned on the Fort Randall and Niobrara routes. A strong preference is given to the former, and the whole party is a unit in declaring the road from Pierre to Rapid City an excellent one in all respects, better, they say, than the road from Yankton to Bon Homme, and with only one bill in any way difficult of ascending or descending. According to the odometer the party traveled 94 miles in reaching Rapid City from Pierre, but will be greatly reduced by cut-offs before a permanent road is made. The Union Pacific and Cheyenne routes is condemned in the strongest terms by the miners who came in that way.

The best evidence in the world that the Yankton expedition are in earnest in their flowery and enthusiastic description of the Black Hills country is that every one of them intend returning to the Hills within two or three weeks for the purpose of locating permanently and making their future homes there.

Judging from the present appearance of the Winslow case, it will be some time before the extradition of the Reverend forger will be reached. The facts respecting the new difficulty which has arisen are, in substance, as follows: The English Government hesitates to give Winslow into the custody of the United States officers, giving as a reason therefore "that the provisions of the treaty of 1842 have been nullified by a recent act of Parliament;" it also claims that they are not bound to surrender him without first receiving an assurance from the United States that he shall only be tried for the offences for which he is extradited.

This could only be done by a guarantee of our Government, since no new law of Congress could interfere with the laws of Massachusetts by which Winslow could be tried; and the guarantee required would also be out of place, in view either of the theory or practice of our governmental system. The attitude taken by the English Government with reference to this case seems, to us, to be utterly indefensible. The clauses of that treaty can be terminated, but only in a specified way, and so long as they stand, neither party would be justified in declining to carry them out. The solemn obligations, voluntarily entered into, will (in the end) leave them no alternative but to comply with the provisions of that treaty.

CENTENNIAL TREE PLANTING.

A commendable movement is on foot in Connecticut, under direction of the Secretary of the Board of Education, to induce the people of that State to plant Centennial trees this Spring. Everybody who owns a plot of ground favorable for the purpose, or who has a street or corner lot, is invited to plant at least one tree, of a species suitable to the town or the landscape, such as an elm, oak, maple, ash or walnut. It's a good idea, and should be put in practice in all parts of the country.

A NATIONAL LABOR CONVENTION will be held in Pittsburgh, Pa., on the third Monday of this month. What it will accomplish toward the amelioration and advancement of the working classes can not be prophesied, but the Executive Committee, in the call for the convention, say: "there are over three million of men in the United States begging their bread from door to door; and among this vast army are tens of thousands who are the fathers of families, who are begging for work, begging for the privilege to labor."

We are aware that these are "hard times," and that many worthy and industrious people are out of employ, but we hope the sentiment that "over three million of men are begging their bread from door to door," is a mistake. Certainly there is not that relative proportion of beggars on the Pacific coast, nor anything like it. No industrious person need "beg for bread," hard as the times are.

The New York Tribune says: Senator Jones, of Nevada, is to make another financial speech. He has for some time had in preparation an address on the silver question, which he will deliver in the Senate some time next week. It is his purpose to cover the whole subject from the earliest history to the present time, and follow the use of silver coin through history, and to show that it should be a legal tender for all amounts. The speech will require two days to deliver.

As expected, orders have been issued by Secretary Taft to transfer the headquarters of the Army back to the Nation's capital, and W. T. Sherman, General Whipple, everything ready for the move.

As the San Francisco Chinese are back to

CONDITION OF THE STATE.

A glance over the State at the present time fully convinces us that we have made no mistake in predicting the bright record Nevada will score during the Centennial year. If we are at fault at all the result will prove that we did not tell the half of the story. Which leads us here to remark that this year will demonstrate to the skeptical and uninformed in the East, and on the Continent, in just what part of the globe this State is; and that the tales told of its wonderful mineral resources are not founded upon mythology or fable, but are true facts, wonderful and bewildering though they seem. When the capitalists abroad who are now in ignorance shall be convinced of this fact, and we believe that time is not far distant, they will be over anxious to expend some of their money in legitimate mining enterprises in this State, and their revenue will be commensurate with their outlay. So all concerned will receive some benefit. Certainly no season has had such prospects for Nevada. With the opening of Spring new energy has apparently been infused. And the Comstock comes to the front with bullion shipments that surpass any ever heretofore known in the history of the world. And what is being done now, astonishing though it be, will not be considered a respectable showing in ninety days from this writing. We verily believe that about that time the yield per month will be little short of ten million dollars, for notwithstanding the prodigious extent and richness of the mineral resources of that section, it looks as though the work of development had not yet fairly begun.

In many of the outside districts the outlook is not as favorable as we could wish. In Eureka mining operations have ceased, owing to a difference between labor and capital. We trust a speedy adjustment of this difficulty may soon be arranged, and if there are any concessions to be made Capital should be willing to offer the first. Labor will then recognize the intimate relations existing between the two, and everything will go along harmoniously. The Cornucopia district is not proving a horn of plenty. The prospects are gloomy for the Summer, but in the Fall we expect the district will make a showing of which its friends will feel proud. The local papers of Pioche speak encouragingly of the future of that camp. They seem to think that a revival of the palmy days is close at hand. It would be a source of pleasure to us to chronicle such a desirable state of affairs. Esmeralda county is making strenuous efforts to recover lost vacant ground. The mines around Belleville are gradually improving, and making larger and larger shipments of the precious stuff. There seems no reason to doubt the existence of a veritable bonanza in that region. Humboldt county is doing considerable prospecting, with flattering results. Ormsby county is likely to develop some good mines. Washoe will soon tell a tale that will speak for itself.

The agricultural and other industrial pursuits elicit but favorable comment from their votaries. These are the true sources of all wealth, and we may well congratulate ourselves that we are making so much progress in these branches. No wonder we believe we are in a favored mill.

THE BULLION TAX.

Counsel for the County Contender of Winning the Case.

Suit was entered and papers served in the contested bullion tax case last Saturday. Mr. Lindsey has associated with himself in the case, as counsel for the county, Mr. Dickson, Messrs. Lewis & Deal and Gen. R. M. Clarke of Carson. All of these gentlemen express themselves entirely confident of ultimate success, seeing before the courts, although the case will be delayed by the defenses as much as possible, and will, no doubt extend through a period of two or three years.

The defendants will carry the matter to the Supreme Court of the United States, to determine whether or not the statute of this State, imposing the tax on the proceeds of the mines is unconstitutional, and void as being in conflict with the Federal Constitution. They, the defendants, claim that it is and reason in this way: By a provision of the Federal Constitution, all legislation is prohibited which impairs the obligation of a contract. Now, defendant claims that the Constitution of our State is the nature of a contract between the people of the State and each individual, and that the statute above referred to is in violation of the Federal Constitution; therefore it impairs the obligation of a contract, and hence is in violation of the Federal Constitution and void for that reason.

The Supreme Court of Nevada has passed upon this question once, in the case of the State vs. Kruttschnitt when the statute imposing the tax was declared legal and constitutional. Gold Hill News, Friday.

PRINCE SIERRA AND HIS JEWELS.

The Sierra Nevada is a rich, lordly, jeweled prince among mountain ranges. Reclining in state, like an Oriental monarch, upon the bosom of the great treeless plain of Western America, it is closed from end to end—600 miles—and from base to base—140 miles—with a dense forest of evergreens, like a royal robe. This ennobling forest—the noblest in North America—is perforated along its center line by a thousand peaks, rising through the royal mantle into the Alpine region of eternal winter, and is rent along both slopes by a million valleys, depressed through the garment into the middle region of the changing seasons. The peaks are the BRILLIANT DIAMONDS. Of this wealthy prince, the valleys, the hidden pearls. The former flash upon the voyager in the far Pacific and the Utah desert, but through the emerald setting of the forest must the explorer search for the latter resplendent gems. Differing from a few acres to 400,000 acres in extent, these valleys flooded with alluvial soil and carpeted with meadows, form the true wealth of the Sierra. To be sure the heart of the Sierra is golden, but where one mines into it and becomes a

HAPPY MILLIONAIRE. A thousand dig as deep and become wretched mendicants. The gold first discovered led to the rapid up-building of camps and towns in the high ravines, now fast disappearing. The wealth of the valleys lately developed, is now attracting population which will ever increase. To work the mines, their debris must be spread over and ruin the valleys. The voice of fast growing communities is now loudly heard in rightful protest. Pretext of all these valleys, and also least affected by mining operations, are those round on the east side of the north end of the Sierra, which region may be taken for the broad orast of PRINCE SIERRA. Decorated with these bright jewels. Five of the largest, arranged in nearly a right line, form center decorations or orders of nobility, surrounded by gems of lesser size and varied lustre, according as they are on the side toward the peaks or toward the plains. These large valleys, while having a generic character of great fruitfulness, differ in attraction for the visitor, owing to the difference of latitude, origin, elevation, contour, area, population and surroundings. Let me bring

THESE VALLEYS. Into one view for comparison of statistics—otherwise dull and valueless. The first on the south, 20 miles from the C. P. R. R., is Sierra valley, drained by the upper streams of the south fork of the Feather river. Latitude, 30½ degs. Elevation, 5,300 feet; contour, a Turkish crescent. Area, 300,000 acres. Population, 2,000. Towns, Sierraville, Randolph, Loyalton and Beckworth. Sentinel peaks, (or crowning diamonds—to continue the figure.) Webster, Haskell, Beckworth and Volcano. The second, 20 miles northwest, is Mohawk valley, drained by the south fork of the Feather. Elevation, 4,500 feet; shape, a three linked Old Fellow badge; area, 2,000 acres; population, 400; towns, Jamison and Eureka; peaks, Haskell and Eureka. The third, 12 miles farther north, is American valley, drained by Spanish creek. Elevation, 3,200 feet; form, a Masonic triangle; area, 8,000 acres; population, 800; town, Quincy; peaks, Clermont, Spanish and Grizzly. The fourth, 12 miles farther northwest, is Indian valley, drained by the middle fork of the Feather. Elevation, 9,300 feet; form, a four armed Maltese cross; area, 16,000 acres; population, 1,000; towns, Taylorville, Crescent and Greenville; peaks, Kettle, Holt's and Greenville. The fifth, and last, 12 miles farther northward, is Big Meadow valley, drained by the north fork of the Feather. Latitude, 40½ degs.; elevation, 4,000 feet; contour, a heart shaped shield; area, 400,000 acres; population varying from a few families in winter to 500 souls in Summer; town, Prattville; peaks, Koldio's Black, and the over towering Lassen.—Corr. WASHBURN FOR PRESIDENT.

The Lyon County Times declares its preference for E. B. Washburn, our present Minister to France, as its Presidential nominee. The Times says he has been kept in the background so far that it has seemed likely to advocate his claims. Lincoln and Grant having both come from Illinois in succession, renders it somewhat out of place for Washburn to put in an appearance on this occasion, yet stranger things have happened, and the Cincinnati Convention may become so divided that the selection of some out-of-the-way man will be inevitable. And besides, the good fortune of the Washburn family is proverbial. We consider the American Minister at Paris a more level-headed and statesmanlike personage than any of the prominent aspirants for the Presidency in this country; that he would make the better President, and we will not be surprised if he the Convention finds itself in such condition as to be glad that as good a man as Washburn is standing around on the outside.

AN IMPORTANT MATTER.

In a few months, says the Winnemucca Register, we are to have an election. One among the offices to be elected is a County Assessor; and, on account of the Central Pacific Railroad running through our county, and being claimants to a large amount of land in the county, the utmost care should be taken to secure the election of a man who will do his duty without fear or favor, and who can not be bought with free passes or coin. We believe Humboldt county has been cheated out of at least $30,000 taxes that she should have received over and above what she did get, simply because the clever old fogey, who was elected Assessor two years ago, neglected to do his duty—in fact was a little too limber.

DECORATION DAY.

An enthusiastic soldier man asked us yesterday if we were not going to have something to say soon about Decoration day. These following remarks are our answer: Now that we have a regularly organized military company in this city, it seems to us that it will be well to make something more than ordinary preparations for that event. To this end we suggest that a meeting of soldiers and sailors of the Union be held at an early day and steps taken to make the pageant an imposing and a brilliant one. Some definite arrangement should be made looking to a very abundant display of the choicest flowers in their freshest condition. Also it seems to us that it would be a good plan to have the literary exercises in the evening. Thus the decoration ceremonies might be done early in the morning—as early as 6 or 7 o'clock, and then the business not being interrupted, the exercises of the evening would be a very excellent wind-up to the occasion; and might we not suggest a good, hearty soldierlike supper at the end of the whole? Hold a meeting and talk the matter over. So says the Carson Appeal.

LINCOLN COUNTY TAXES.

The general impression has been that Lincoln county would levy no taxes for this year. The Pioche Journal of Tuesday last contains an item contradicting such an idea. It says a secret session was held of the Board of County Commissioners, for the purpose of deciding on the levying of a county tax, for the ensuing term. After being in session for several hours, it was finally concluded that the regular rate of tax be levied as heretofore, with the exception of a reduction in the school apportionment of this county, making it $4.10 instead of $4.20 as previously levied. The Board adjourned at 11 p. m. sine die.

OUR COUNTY FINANCES.
Items Cleared From the Quarterly Report—Business of the First Quarter of the Year—Our Liabilities and Assets—Cash on Hand—Twenty Well Fixed.
In conformity with law the County Auditor and County Treasurer have made their reports for the first quarter of the year 1876; showing the financial condition of the county at the present time, the amount of revenue received, how it was apportioned, the expenditures, our assets and liabilities. The total revenue received from all sources during the quarter was $5,915 10. The expenditures for the same period amounted to $13,033 26, exceeding the revenue by $7,118 16. The total cash in the treasury at this date is $63,717 88. Our liabilities aggregate $10,128 78, leaving a balance of $44,589 10.
The quarterly reports will prove interesting to all taxpayers, and should be attentively perused.
It has been estimated that our expenditures for the year will amount to nearly $50,000. Our receipts will be about $30,000, despite the fact that our rate of taxation is only 1.80.
No other county in the State can make such a financial exhibit as this.
TEACHERS' CONVENTION.—Prof. Flint Superintendent of Public Schools for Storey county, says the Teachers' Convention will be held in Virginia at some time in the near future. In fact, as soon as the weather is sufficiently pleasant to permit of all who desire to come to do so. All teachers of Storey and surrounding counties are invited to be present, and are requested to prepare essays on such subjects as they think would be of interest to the Convention. The exercises will extend through two days. Due notice of the gathering will be given.
PERSONAL.—S. S. Davis, Supreme Chancellor, Knights of Pythias, of the world, will pay this jurisdiction a visit the latter part of this month. Mr. Davis' headquarters are at Nashua, New Hampshire. The Nevada Knights will no doubt extend a knightly greeting to the Supreme Chancellor.
VIRGINIA AND TRUCKEE RAILROAD.—The annual meeting of the stock holders of the Virginia and Truckee Railroad Company will be held at the office of the company in Virginia city on May 9th at 12 o'clock M. See notice in another column.
OUT FOR PRACTICE.—The steamer was taken out and worked awhile yesterday, completely to the satisfaction of all. This Saturday afternoon exercise is getting to be a regular thing.
SPELLED THEM DOWN.—A spelling match at school Friday afternoon resulted in Miss Josie Wintermantle being declared the victor. She spelled them all down, big and little.
SHERIFF'S SALE.—Sheriff Jones has a proclamation in another column to the effect that on the 3rd of May he will offer for sale the Bowers Mansion property.
READ THE ADVERTISEMENT OF THE EL Dorado saloon and musical headquarters. It's a pleasant Summer resort.

CENTENNIAL FESTIVAL.

A festival will be held for the benefit of the Congregational Church on Thursday evening next at Dyer's Hall. The ladies are actively engaged in preparing an entertainment of rare and unusual attractions; one in which the scenes and customs of Auld Lang Syne will be called to mind by tableaux, allegories and music. A fine display of flowers may also be expected, and the tables will be spread with that bounty and taste which is characteristic of our ladies. Lay your plans to be there. Show your patriotism. Encourage home talent, and help a good cause.
In Town.—Robert Chalmers, of El Dorado county, California, was in town last evening. Mr. Chalmers is proprietor of a large vineyard in that section, and was over here disposing of his wines, of which he has 70,000 gallons to sell.
SECRETARY CORNERS, of the Con. Poe, came down from Peavine yesterday. He warns us to look out for lots of bullion.
COUNTY HOSPITAL.—The County Hospital has five inmates. Dr. Hogan reports no aggravating cases.
THERE are only three prisoners in the county jail.
Mrs. JULIA PRESCOTT, our fashionable milliner, has returned, and if the ladies wish a rare treat they should go and see her window, where they will find the finest, choicest and most select stock in that line which has ever been displayed in this town or anywhere on the coast.
BOISOT THE BROKER.
Acquitted by a Silver City Jury—Argument of the Defense.
The trial of C. V. Boisot, the Silver City broker who failed last October, and after residing in San Francisco for five months was arrested last March by Ben Lackey, was concluded yesterday, the jury bringing in a verdict of not guilty. It will be remembered that the first indictment of the Lyon county Grand Jury against Boisot, was ignored by the District Court on account of a flaw in its construction. A second indictment was found against him, and his trial commenced on the 2d of this month. The defense offered by Boisot's counsel was that all the stock belonging to his customers was in the hands of his San Francisco brokers. Boisot invested heavily on his own account, and to protect themselves the San Francisco brokers, seized all his customers' stock in their possession. Boisot proved before the Court that these were the facts of his failure, and the Judge charged the jury to find a verdict accordingly.—Virginia Chronicle of Friday.
Captain Henry Wright, the base ball celebrity, is now lying at the point of death in Savannah. He is now in Florida and gaining strength rapidly.
Joaquin Miller's "First Families of the Sierras" is said by the Cincinnati Commercial to be "full of vulgarity of style."
SPECIAL NOTICE.
